REQUIREMENTS FOR THE PH.D. IN COMMUNICATION
(Students Entering in 2007)

The Ph.D. in Communication is competency-based. A Master’s degree from an accredited institution is required for admission into the doctoral program. A Ph.D. degree requires successful completion in three general areas: Coursework, Comprehensive Examination, and Dissertation.

I. Coursework

A. Minimum pre-dissertation coursework totals 39 credits.

B. Students must complete minimum following courses with grade of B or better:

1. COMM 700—Introduction to Graduate Study in Communication (3 credits) (Required in first semester).

2. Theory Requirement. 3 credits. Students must complete one of the following (a second theory course is strongly recommended):
   a. COMM 602—Communication Theory
   b. COMM 630—Seminar in Public Relations Management
   c. COMM 652—Contemporary Rhetorical Theory

3. Methods and Foundations Requirement. 12 credits. Students must complete 6 credits through one of the following sequences:
   a. Quantitative: COMM 702 and COMM 703. (Prerequisites to COMM 702 such as COMM 600 cannot be used to satisfy the 12-hour requirement. Additional coursework may be required depending upon preparation in statistics.)
   c. Qualitative: COMM 714 and COMM 715.
   d. 6 additional credits in methods/foundations credits within or outside department.

4. Cognate Area Outside Department. 6 credits. Contributes to later dissertation research. Typically drawn from single academic discipline. May be drawn from coherent combination of disciplines with Advisory Committee approval.

5. Area of Specialization. 15 credits.
6. COMM 899—Doctoral Dissertation Research. Minimum 12 credits. Must enroll in minimum of 1 credit of COMM 899 each fall and spring semester until completion of degree even if 12 credits requirement is satisfied.

7. COMM 898—Pre-Candidacy Research. Minimum 1 credit each fall and spring semester between completion of Plan of Study and Advancement to Candidacy, if applicable. (Eligibility for Candidacy requires passing Prospectus Examination).

C. General Coursework Guidelines:
1. Completion of COMM 602, COMM 630, COMM 652, 700, 702, 703, 711, 712, 714, or 715 with grade of B or better prior to matriculation satisfies specific course(s) requirement.
2. Continuous enrollment during spring and fall semesters required until the Ph.D. degree is completed.
3. Advisory Committee may require additional preparatory courses.
4. Students must maintain Good Standing/Satisfactory Progress.

D. Research Assurances [Human Subject Research]. Any research involving human subjects requires prior approval by Communication Human Subjects Review Board and/or the University’s Institutional Research Board (IRB).

E. Graduate Director Approval and Form Processing. All required Departmental Forms and Graduate School Forms require final approval by Graduate Director. After the signature of the Graduate Director is obtained, all forms must/will be given to Graduate Coordinator for processing:
1. The Graduate Coordinator makes one copy of all forms for the Advisor.
2. The original of Department form is placed in student file.
3. The original of the Graduate School form is sent to the Graduate School by the Graduate Coordinator and a copy is placed in the student’s file.

F. Course Registration
1. Full-time students typically enroll in 10 credits per regular (fall and spring) term.
2. First-semester students on teaching assistantship enroll in COMM 686—Teaching Communication (1 credit).
3. COMM 798—Independent Study, contracted with faculty member, requires accessing specific faculty section numbers at and lifting of “Permission Only” block by the Graduate Coordinator.
4. Matriculating funded students register no earlier than August to avoid registration cancellation due to unprocessed tuition remission.

5. Registration on Testudo (on-line system) or MARS (telephone system 301-403-0500) requires Student ID and PIN. Initial PIN is birthday (e.g., 042285 for April 22, 1985). From menu, choose Records and Registration, then Registration, and then Drop/Add. Enter course and section numbers, grading method, and credits for each class.

G. Coursework Plan of Study

1. Advisor & Advisory Committee
   a. The Advisory Committee requires at least four members, including the Advisor who must be a Regular Graduate Faculty in Communication.
   b. At least three members must be Regular Graduate Faculty, and the majority must be Communication faculty.
   c. The Cognate Area Examination option requires a faculty member from Cognate Area on Examining Committee for Cognate Examination.
   d. Changes in the Advisory Committee require new approval.

2. Plan of Study Approval
   a. The Plan of Study requires unanimous approval by the Advisory Committee.
   b. The Plan of Study meeting prior to approval is required if requested by student, advisor, or any other Committee member and shall occur on Fridays of 7th, 8th, and 9th weeks of fall and spring semester reserved for M.A. and Ph.D. Committee meetings.

3. Successful Completion of the Plan of Study
   a. Must complete with a grade of B or better all courses listed on the Plan of Study.
   b. May replace/exclude from the Plan of Study courses with a grade lower than B if not explicitly required with approval by the Advisory Committee.
   c. Failure to retake courses with a grade lower than B may jeopardize GPA and Good Standing.
   d. Changes in an approved Plan of Study require unanimous approval of Advisory Committee and Graduate Director via Request for Change in Plan of Study Form.
   e. Minor changes (e.g., semester course can/will be taken) require no new approval.

4. Time Limits
   a. Must complete regular coursework in the Plan of Study, pass a Comprehensive Examination, and Advance to Candidacy within five years of matriculation.

b. A minimum of six months and no more than four years may elapse between admission to candidacy and the dissertation examination.

c. No more than nine years may elapse between matriculation and the dissertation examination.

d. Extensions require approval of the Advisor, the Graduate Director, and the Graduate Dean.

e. Consult the Graduate School Catalogue for further information regarding extensions, termination, and readmission.

II. Comprehensive Examination

A. Mission: The Ph.D. comprehensive examinations are designed for the graduate student to demonstrate in-depth knowledge of literature related to the student's approved research program, specifically in terms of the major area, method, subject area, and oral examinations. In addition to demonstrating a depth of knowledge in a program of study, the examination process should prepare the student to write a dissertation, to secure an academic or professional position, and to fulfill an academic or professional career with distinction.

The advisor and the graduate student should meet early in the student's program to discuss the comprehensive examination process and should meet to discuss the procedures for the comprehensive exams the semester before the student completes the exams.

The comprehensive examinations will cover readings from graduate coursework, independent studies, and the student's dissertation area. Additional readings may be recommended by members of the advisory committee. The graduate student's advisory committee may require the graduate student to prepare a reading list and circulate that list for approval with the advisory committee once the examination plan is approved.

Graduate students may approach members of the advisory committee for feedback on the written exams prior to the oral examination. Graduate students should use the period between the written and oral examinations to continue their review of the examination materials.

B. Comprehensive Examination shall be conducted according to the Plan for Comprehensive Examination approved by the Advisory Committee

C. Comprehensive Examination Components

1. Written component of at least twelve hours.
2. Subsequent oral component of two hours.
D. Plan for Comprehensive Examination

1. Comprehensive Examination Plan requires the majority approval of the Advisory Committee no later than the final semester of coursework required in the Plan of Study.

2. Plan must specify:
   a. The semester the examination will be taken.
   b. The subject matters of various written components of the examination.
   c. The hours allocated to each portion of the written examination (Minimum 12 total).
   d. The Advisory Committee member(s) delegated by the Committee to prepare each subject examination.
   e. The form and format of questions. Any variations from supervised “closed book” examination and/or special conditions (e.g., method for distributing examination, time allowed for completion, allowances and/or restrictions on materials, word or page limit, etc.). The examination will be “closed book,” supervised, and taken on campus unless the Plan specifies otherwise.

E. Comprehensive Exam Schedule and Deadlines

1. The Advisor must forward questions to the Graduate Director or designated exam proctor by the first week of the semester the examination will be taken.

2. Must complete the Comprehensive Examination by the second semester following completion of coursework in the Plan of Study to maintain Good Standing/Satisfactory Progress.

3. The written portions of the comprehensive examination occur during 2nd through 4th weeks of the fall and spring semesters at times specified by the Graduate Director. Examinations other than “closed book” are due at the same time.

4. The Graduate Director may order the subject examinations to maintain integrity if multiple students answer the same questions in given semester.

5. The oral portion of the examination occurs Fridays of the 7th, 8th, and 9th weeks of the fall and spring semesters reserved for Ph.D. and M.A. committee meetings.

6. The scheduling of oral examinations requires that the student and the advisor propose three 2-hour time slots to the Committee via e-mail to request availability (cc: Graduate Coordinator). The Graduate Coordinator coordinates and schedules times/locations of oral examinations if multiple examinations occur on one day.
F. Subject Matter of Written Examination

1. Consists of at least three parts, all subject to Advisory Committee approval:
   a. Major Area Examination: Tests knowledge of the student’s disciplinary interest area selected by the student and the Advisor from a list approved by the Graduate Committee.
   b. Methods Examination: Tests knowledge of general methods from which the specific dissertation method will be drawn.
   c. Subject Area Examination, selected from among the following options:
      1. Dissertation Research Literature Examination: Tests knowledge of theory and literature informing the dissertation. May include material from Cognate Area.
      2. Second Content Area Examination: Tests knowledge of second area selected by the student and the Advisor from a list approved by the Graduate Committee.
      4. Cognate Examination: Tests knowledge of Cognate Area. An outside faculty member from the Cognate Area strongly recommended.

G. Written Examination (Optional) Revisions

1. Unrefined answers for “closed book” examinations require immediate submission via hard copy, e-mail, or disk to the Advisor and the Graduate Director or a designated examination proctor who shall confirm receipt.
2. Optional refined answers–typed and corrected for grammar and spelling only–must reach the Advisory Committee within three days.
3. Refinements must be indicated with strikeouts for deletions and brackets [e.g., added word] for additions (or use Word Track Changes).

H. Comprehensive Examination Assessment

1. Following the oral component of the examination, the Committee issues one of following judgments: a) pass with distinction, b) pass, c) conditional pass, or d) failure of one or all subject areas.
2. Pass with distinction or pass requires a majority vote of the Advisory Committee.

3. Conditional pass or failure requires that the Committee inform the student and the Graduate Director in writing of deficiencies in the examination and include requirements for the student to pass/retake the examination (e.g., additional coursework, rewriting portion of exam).

4. Students failing any portion of the examination may retake that portion one time during same or subsequent semester with the Graduate Director’s approval. Second failure constitutes termination from the program.

5. The Advisory Committee reports determination to the Graduate Director via the Report of Advisory Committee on Comprehensive Exam.

III. Dissertation, Dissertation Prospectus, & Examination

B. Research Assurances (Human Subject Research). Dissertation research involving human subjects requires prior approval by the Communication Human Subjects Review Board and/or the University’s Institutional Review Board (IRB), and approvals must accompany the Nomination for Dissertation Examining Committee.

C. Dissertation Examining Committee Membership

1. Minimum of five members who are members of the Graduate Faculty, and at least three members who must be Regular Graduate Faculty members, including the Chair and the Dean’s Representative of the Graduate School.

2. The Dean’s Representative must be a tenured Graduate Faculty member from outside the Department of Communication. A background/interest in the dissertation research is strongly recommended.

3. The Chair must be the Dissertation Advisor.

4. A majority of the Committee must be Department of Communication faculty.

5. Consult Graduate Catalogue for stipulations concerning Co-chairs, Special Members, Emeriti faculty, or former University of Maryland faculty.

D. Dissertation Examining Committee Nomination & Approval

1. Committee Membership requires nomination by the Advisor and the Graduate Director and approval by the Graduate Dean.
2. Requests for Appointment of Dissertation Advisor and Nomination of Thesis/Dissertation Examining Committee requires approval by the Graduate Dean no later than six weeks before the defense. Dissertation defenses cannot be held until the Committee composition is approved by the Graduate Dean.
3. Changes in the Committee membership require new approval.
4. For Emergency Substitutions, see Graduate Catalogue.

E. Dissertation Prospectus Committee: The Dissertation Prospectus Committee typically mirrors composition of and becomes the Dissertation Examining Committee.

F. Dissertation Prospectus General Features

1. Identifies a disciplinary problem/question addressed in the dissertation.
2. Reviews previous pertinent research.
4. Provides a précis of probable dissertation chapters.
5. Furnishes a bibliography of germane materials.

G. Dissertation Prospectus Meeting, Schedule, & Approval

1. The Dissertation Prospectus Committee must receive the prospectus approved by the Advisor at least two weeks before the prospectus meeting.
2. The Prospectus meeting, which is two hours, may be scheduled at discretion of the student, the advisor, and the Committee but must be confined to fall and spring semesters.
3. Approval of the prospectus requires a unanimous Committee vote. The Committee must communicate its determination to the Graduate Director (copy to the student) via the Report of Dissertation Project Committee on Dissertation Prospectus Meeting and specify in writing any conditions for prospectus approval or rationale for rejecting the prospectus.

H. Advancement to Candidacy

1. Approval of the dissertation prospectus confers eligibility for application for Candidacy. The Application for Admission to Candidacy for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy requires approval by the Advisor, the Graduate Director, and the Graduate Dean and depends upon the following completed materials in graduate file (see departmental forms):

   a. Approved Request for Appointment of Program Advisor and Advisory Committee.
b. Approval of Plan of Study Form attached to approved Plan of Study.
c. Approval of Comprehensive Examination Form accompanied by Comprehensive Examination Plan.
d. Report of Advisory Committee on Comprehensive Examination indicating student passed Comprehensive Examination and copies of answers to written portion of examination.
e. Approval of Request for Appointment of Dissertation Advisor/Dissertation Project Committee.

2. Admission to Candidacy must occur within five years after matriculation and at least six months before the degree is awarded.

3. Teaching and research assistants advance to a new pay classification upon advancement to candidacy. Paperwork must reach the Graduate School prior to 25th of month to become effective first day of following month.

I. Dissertation Format

2. For matters not settled in the Manual, the Advisor may require one of several standard manuals of style.

J. Dissertation Examining Committee Approval for Examination: The Dissertation Examining Committee must receive the dissertation approved by the Advisor at least two weeks before the scheduled defense.

K. Dissertation Examination Scheduling and Announcement

1. The Dissertation Examination, which is two hours, may be scheduled at discretion of the student, the advisor, and the Advisory Committee but must be confined to the fall and spring semesters.
2. The announcement of date, time, location of examination, the candidate’s name, the dissertation advisor, and the dissertation title must be publicized to all members of the University Graduate Faculty and Department of Communication graduate students via e-mail, newsletters, or individual announcements at least five working days prior to examination. Omission of proper notice of examination may nullify the defense.

L. Dissertation Examination Attendance
1. Oral defenses must be attended by all members of the Dissertation Examining Committee. Consult Graduate School Catalogue for procedures regarding Emergency Substitutions and Remote Participation.

2. Oral defenses must be open to all University Graduate Faculty. Oral defenses may be open to others with permission of the advisor.

M. Dissertation Examination

1. Part 1—Student Participation
   a. The Dean’s Representative must be identified at beginning of examination.
   b. The Candidate presents a brief public presentation/summary of dissertation research.
   c. Questions from the audience are permitted at the discretion of the advisor.
   d. The Dissertation Examining Committee Chair may allot time for answers or rule on relevance of questions from audience members.

2. Part 2—Questioning by Dissertation Examining Committee
   a. The Dissertation Examining Committee formally examines the Candidate.
   b. Open only to the Committee, other Graduate Faculty, and Department of Communication graduate students.
   c. Only the Committee members may ask questions.

3. Conclusion of Examination
   a. Open only to the Dissertation Examining Committee.
   b. The Committee deliberates and issues one of the following judgments:
      1. Accept the dissertation without revision and sign the Report of Examining Committee.
      2. Accept the dissertation contingent upon recommended revisions and—excepting the committee Chair—sign the Report of Examining Committee. The Committee empowers the Chair to evaluate the dissertation for recommended changes and, upon the Chair’s approval, sign the Report.
      3. Recommend revisions but not sign the Report of Examining Committee until revisions have been reviewed and approved by the Committee.

4. Recommend revisions and require a second meeting of the Committee to review alterations prior to approval and signing of the Report.

5. Rule the dissertation and the defense a failure.

c. Chair must inform the candidate of the Committee’s decision in the presence of the Dean’s Representative, and both the Chair and the Dean’s Representative must sign the Report of Dissertation Examining Committee and forward it to Graduate Director with copies to the student and the graduate file.

N. Pass/Failure

1. The Candidate passes if only one member of the Dissertation Examining Committee refuses to sign the Report of Dissertation Examining Committee, but other Committee members sign, before or after approval of recommended changes.

2. Two or more negative Committee votes constitute failure. In cases of failure, the Committee must detail deficiencies in the dissertation and/or oral performance on Report.

3. A second examination requires approval of the Graduate Director and the Graduate Dean and may be permitted if the candidate is in Good Standing at time of the proposed second examination. Failure of the second examination, or if the second examination is denied, results in termination from the program.

O. After Dissertation Examination

1. The Advisor must file the Report of Examining Committee with the Graduate School.

2. The Student must prepare at least three “hard-bound” copies of the final approved version of the dissertation on acid-free paper for the following: the Dissertation Advisor, the Department of Communication, and the student. Members of the Examining Committee may also request copies.

3. The Student must submit a final version of the dissertation electronically. Consult Graduate School Catalogue for directions and stipulations regarding University rights and student copyrights.

IV. Good Standing/Satisfactory Progress Toward Degree

A. Students must remain in Good Standing and make satisfactory progress towards degree, which entails the following:
1. Maintaining 3.0 GPA.
2. Filing approved Plan of Study by semester of 12th credit (second semester for full-time students).
3. Submitting all work specified within an incomplete contract by the end of the semester following the awarded incomplete unless otherwise specified in the incomplete contract.
4. Passing the Comprehensive Examination by the second semester following completion of coursework in the approved Plan of Study.
4. Advancing to Candidacy by the second semester following completion of the Comprehensive Examination.
5. Passing the Dissertation Examination within four years following Advancement to Candidacy and nine years following matriculation.
6. No judgment of breaching ethical principles of scholarship (e.g., violations of academic integrity and/or intellectual property rights or non-compliance of protocols for protection of human subjects.)

B. Procedures for Good Standing/Satisfactory Progress Review

1. Failure to meet any Good Standing criteria requires that the Graduate Director notify the student, the Advisor, and the Department Chair of deficiency.
2. The Graduate Director may stipulate conditions required to restore Good Standing, recommend continued funding be contingent upon satisfying required conditions, or take other appropriate action.
3. The Student, the Graduate Director, or the Advisor may request that the Advisory Committee review the student’s overall academic performance beyond the specific deficiency. The Graduate Committee substitutes for the Advisory Committee if no Advisory Committee exists.
4. Following review, the Advisor must submit a letter to the Graduate Director signed (in support or dissent) by all the Committee members:
   a. Certifying overall progress to be satisfactory despite deficiency,
   b. Recommending probationary requirements for remaining in program, or
   c. Recommending dismissal from the program.
5. Recommendations other than dismissal restore Good Standing with the Graduate Director’s approval.
6. Recommendation for termination by the Committee or the Graduate Director requires meeting of Department of Communication Graduate Faculty and a 2/3 majority vote of members present and voting.
